

BLACK LIBERATION WILL PUT A STOP TO THE KLAN, THE NAZIS & KILLER COPS

We are demonstrating in front of the San Leandro Police Department to oppose the cross burnings at the Bienvenido family's home last weekend by the Ku Klux Klan. The fact that police allowed these cross burnings to happen two nights in a row shows that the police will never stop the Klan.

To cover up their own complicity in these racist attacks, the police say these cross burnings were just a prank. In reality, they represent what the Klan is all about. The KKK is a secret, armed organization that carries out terror attacks on Black and other Third World people as it fights to defend the u.s. system.

In 1980, the Klan burned crosses at the homes of Black families in San Leandro and terrorized Black people in Contra Costa County. One year ago, the Klan attacked a strike of Black and Latino nurses in Castro Valley. What is going on here is part of the growing consolidation of white supremacist activity in California and around the country. Nazi attacks on Black people in Oroville had been building for years before they ever broke into the headlines.

On Labor Day of this year, eight Klan groups met in Georgia to form the Confederation of Klans, representing 60,000 members nationwide. When they scheduled a march in Washington, D.C. for November 27, Black people and anti-Klan demonstrators fought the Klan and police in the streets, forcing them to cancel their march. The Black Liberation Movement has always led the struggle against the Klan, and D.C. points the way that the Klan will be defeated.

We must build a movement that opposes white supremacist violence in all its forms -- from killer cops, to the KKK; from the law and order movement to the FBI to the White House.

The John Brown Anti-Klan Committee, along with community groups in Richmond, has exposed the Richmond "Cowboys," a racist group that has existed within the Richmond Police Department for ten years. The Cowboys beat up Black people both on the streets and in the jail.

Since 1980 the police in Richmond have killed five Black men. After police murdered Willie Lee Drumgoole last September, the Cowboys distributed a KKK-inspired leaflet justifying the police's actions and depicting Drumgoole and all Black people as animals.

We say the Klan, Nazis, Cowboys and other racist groups have no right to exist and the human rights of Third World people must be defended.

From the time they were brought here in chains and forced to work as slaves, Afrikan people have defended themselves and fought with arms for their liberation. After the Civil War, Black people demanded land and political power. The Ku Klux Klan arose to drive them off the land they claimed and to re-establish white power -- to keep the Black nation enslaved. One hundred years later -- and Black people are still not free. 80% of Black youth are unemployed. 25% of Black women have been sterilized. The police kill 400 Black people every year. This is more than discrimination or injustice or a problem of racist ideas. For Black people in America, the reality is colonialism and genocide. Only by freeing their nation and smashing u.s. state power over their lives can this 400 years of terror be ended. That is why there is a New Afrikan Independence Movement and why today there are Freedom Fighters and the Black Liberation Army (BLA). They are struggling for land and independence for New Afrika, the national territory of the Black nation -- what is now the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. This is the land Black people have historically lived on, worked on, and fought to stay on.

The anti-Klan movement must take a principled stand supporting the Black Liberation Movement and defending revolutionary organizations against state and Klan attacks. Progressive white people must build a movement to confront the Klan, Nazis and killer cops wherever they show their faces. Just as Black resistance drove the Klan from the streets of Washington, D.C., we must support the freedom struggle of the Black nation and together we will destroy the Klan, the Nazis and the power of the u.s. state. Act now -- we can make a difference!

DEATH TO THE KLAN AND THE NAZIS!
FIGHT WHITE SUPREMACY!

SUPPORT BLACK PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO SELF-DEFENSE!

LAND AND INDEPENDENCE FOR THE BLACK NATION!
